DART FOR KIDS

This is not Darts for Kids, it is Dart for Kids. Yes, there will be kids playing darts, but the concept of this tournament is for us, as darters, to contribute our time and money to helping a select group of kids. These children have very serious medical conditions, like Spina Bifida, GE Reflux, Joubert Syndrome, Congenital Central Hypoventilation Syndrome and one child even has had a heart transplant. They will be at this event to see all of the darters that are supporting their cause. Your children are also welcome!

There is a $20.00 entry fee that covers both singles and doubles (men's and women's). All matches are 501, cricket, choice. Prizes will be awarded by sponsors. Free dinners, hotel room, trophies, etc. There will be a cash bar. Also, FREE FOOD will be provided for the darters.

This is an R.S.V.P. Tournament. Please Call 614-240-3583 and leave your name and phone number and let them know you will be playing in the DART FOR KIDS tournament. This is so they will know how much FREE FOOD to have available.

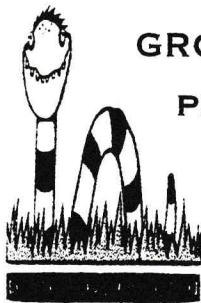

Channel 10 will be there to cover this event, and I hope we can show Columbus that we, as darters, are generous with our time and money and care about helping very ill children. Please let's make this a HUGE success!!

St. Pete -

A guy is at the pearly gates, waiting to be admitted, while St. Peter is leafing through the big book to see if the guy is worthy of entering. Saint Peter goes through the book several times, furrows his brow, and says to the guy, "You know, I can't see that you did anything really good in your life, but, you never did anything bad either. Tell you what, if you can tell me of one REALLY good deed that you did in your life, you're in." The guy thinks for a moment and says, "Well, there was the time when I was driving down the highway and I saw a group of biker guys gathered around this poor girl. I slowed down my car to see what was going on, and sure enough, there were about 20 of 'em tormenting this girl. Infuriated, I got out of my car, grabbed a tire iron out of my trunk, and walked straight up to the leader of the gang, a huge guy with a studded leather jacket and a chain running from this nose to his ear. As I walked up to the leader, the gang formed a circle around e. So, I ripped the leader's chain off his face and smashed him over the head with the tire iron. Then I turned around and yelled to the rest of them, 'Leave this poor, innocent girl alone! You're a bunch of sick, deranged animals! Go home before I teach you all a lesson in pain!'" St. Peter, impressed, says, "Really? When did this happen?" "Oh, about two minutes ago."

The World According To Ron

("Where have all the darters gone?")

Where have all the darters gone? Wasn't it just yesterday, the dartboards were full of activity, the beer flowed freely, and tempers ran high? Now, it seems like even the chalkdust is collecting dust. It was inevitable, I now know, that the horrific disease known as summer would catch us all. Infecting the dart community with ideas of sunshine and softball, picnics and pool parties, badminton and barbecues.

Fortunately for all of you, the members of the CDA, Dr. Ron has the cure. Why not beat down that summer fever by joining some of your fellow darters at one of the CDA's new summer leagues? Better yet, join one of our summer leagues, and visit one of our weekly blind draws just as a precaution. What better way to spend an evening, than drinking the ice cold beverage of your choice, talking with friends, and playing the game that we all love.

Strength is in numbers. With your help, we can stamp out that insidious sunshine!

A Note for You...

Columbus Darters Association,

I just wanted to take a brief moment to write a short article about my experience playing the newly structured Columbus Pro-League. I have been an off and on again member of Pro-League for the last 4 years, but never played frequently enough to make a splash in the standings that usually took a year or two of constant play to get to the top of. With the newly instituted format of each 12 - week season having a money winner, and a yearly champion, Bruce has found a way to keep the traditional incentive of the league, while allowing for someone to play a shorter season and reap the benefits of a cash award.

Having previously played in many leagues ranging from highly competitive to being able to win by kicking my darts up at the board, I began the season ready for anything. Because of the wide collection of talent that signed up for the inaugural season, I wasn't disappointed either and was able to pull off both some impressive wins and some painful losses. Due to the highly competitive format of the league (all singles head to head matches that are best out of 3) everyone seemed to bring their best darts almost every week and it was an incredible challenge to try and stay in the money. But more important than money, Pro-League is the only available league that was able to give me valuable experience playing by myself in a best of 3 format. In other leagues that I've played in, there are always multiple matches that you can rely on another darter to help you out in, but in Pro-League, a darter has to rely on their own skill or luck to win the games. This is experience that can not be measured when it comes time to play in singles events at such tournaments as the Bloodshot and Buckeye Open.

In closing, I have found the Columbus Pro-League to be an invaluable asset to my progression as a dart player and I am sure that any other darter who has the available time and desire to improve, will also. The league is going to be starting up again on May 9th at the Crestview Tavern and I look forward to seeing more of the area darters joining in.

Throw Well,

Bryant Cave
