BUCKEYE OPEN/QUAD-CITY CHALLENGE

Central Ohio Darters announces and welcomes all dart throwers to the 1st Annual Buckeye Open Dart Tournament, to be held Friday, December 2nd and Saturday, December 3rd, prior to the Quad-City Challenge on Sunday. This $5,000 guaranteed, ADO sanctioned tournament will take place at Howard Johnson's North at Rt. 161 and I-71. Please see the enclosed flyer for map and for the schedule of events.

Also, we would like to encourage all interested COD members who either didn't wish to try out for the All-Star Team or who were unsuccessful in their attempt this year, to come out anyway to the Quad-City Challenge at Howard Johnson's at 1 PM Sunday, December 4th. We need cheerleaders and supporters for the team. This year Cleveland, Cincinnati and Dayton are out to get us and with your support we can bring home the biggest trophy (the one with the "1" on it.)

President's message.

Dear COD Member,

Now that it's well underway, I hope you are enjoying the Fall 83 dart season. The month of December will soon be here. Please check the enclosed flyer on the Buckeye Open. The COD board of directors is proud to be hosting the event. Please try to participate. This is a good chance to experience some tournament play and meet some of the darters from out of town who will be playing.

Following the Buckeye Open on Sunday is the Cleveland-Cincinnati-Dayton-Columbus Quad-City Challenge. Many of you will remember that last year we played the Tri-City. Years ago the challenge started between Cleveland and Columbus. In 1980 we played our first Tri-City Challenge including Cincinnati, at the Seven Seas Lounge. Since then we have held the Tri-City here in Columbus the first Sunday of December. In the past the Columbus team has not fared as well as the other teams, but this is the year. Hopefully everyone made it to a qualifier this year and tried out for the team. If not, why not try and spend some time Sunday, December 4th at Howard Johnson's and cheer your team on. The match starts at 1:00 PM and lasts several hours.

Also, December brings the season's end and the flight championship playoffs. Included in this newsletter is an article about the playoffs. They will be held December 17th.

On December 19th our 15th Week Singles Tournament will be held. Watch the standing sheets for details.

Please read the article about Fair Play. You will be receiving your opinion poll soon, along with your nomination forms for the 1984-85 board of directors. When nominating an individual, make sure the person is willing to work toward the improvement of our league.

FLIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP PLAYOFFS

Becky Roberts

What are the Flight Championship Playoffs? Many of our league members have had the opportunity to participate in the playoffs, but for the new members or those who have not been involved with the playoffs - they are the culmination of a league season.

As you probably know, trophies are awarded to each member of the top two teams in each division at the end of the season. In addition, these top two teams are invited to the Flight Championship Playoffs. There is a playoff held for each of the three flights - Bronze, Silver and Gold. We play at three of our member bars. Each team plays every other team within their flight in a round-robin competition. The team earning the most points is the Flight Champion. A separate set of trophies is awarded to the champions at the End-of-Season Party.

This year the fall playoffs will be held Saturday, December 17th.

Hope to see you there!

feature darter

by Shirley Riemenschneider

First of all, it's about time we featured one of the ladies in COD. And who better to honor than the one who has had the most successful darting career of us all-- Jean Zeigler.

Also we are reprinting an article written by Jean in 1979 and originally published in the dart magazine International Spider. Look for it elsewhere in Dart News for an insight into how and why Jean took up this sport, how she discovered Central Ohio Darters, and what her views are on the game.

Jean says she played several years before really winning anything. But during that time she "worked long hours at home on delivery and stance; how I needed to hold the darts to get certain results, balance of points, and combinations of dart equipment. I adjusted and readjusted my weight, etc., for the right combination for my throw." And the work paid off, because in 1977 the trophies started to come home to Jean's house and haven't stopped. The following are highlights of Jean's career in darts to date:

- 1977 2nd Place Ladies Singles, Ohio State Dart Championships, Cleveland, O.
- 1978 1st Place Ladies Singles, Ohio State Dart Championships, Cleveland, O.
- 1979 Central Ohio Darters Womens City Champion
- 1979 Was awarded the "most valuable player" trophy at the Windy City Open Chicago, and won over $400 that weekend, including 1st place Ladies Doubles

- 1980 1st Place Ladies Singles, Washington Open VI, beating Helen Scheerbaum in best of five in finals for $600
- 1980 Won 1st Place in both a mixed doubles division and an open doubles division in COD summer league
- 1980 1st Place Ladies Singles at 1st Annual Queen City Open, Cincinnati, for $200 and diamond dart ring
- 1980 Ranked 9th in country by ADO Womens Championship Point Standings

In addition to the above achievements Jean has won the Ladies Singles events at least once in the Seven Seas Easter Tourney, the Salty Seas Tournament (both Columbus), the Tom Bates Memorial (Galion), the Walter Kelley Memorial (Columbus), Great Lakes Classic (Michigan), the MDA Tourney, the COD Summer Party, and the Gavel Classic (all Columbus). She also had the distinction of being the first woman to play in COD's "A" Division. Currently Jean plays on a team called FULL-A-BULL V with Ernie Estice, Bob Rosenblum and Gary Troyan. She is a member of the T-80 Club and is a past COD board member.

Jean supports her dart habit (she neither drinks beer nor smokes, however) by working evenings at Riverside Hospital as an EKG tech. She is an artist and a watercolorist, an avid golfer, and a collector. She has two sons and a daughter and six grandchildren.

In the March 1980 issue of International Spider, Jean was referred to as a "rugged competitor" and that seems about as accurate a characterization as one would want, in describing Jean as a darter. She has represented the COD well in many major tournaments during the last six years and here's wishing her many future triumphs.

LACKING RESULTS

Tournament directors and participants have been doing a very good job of keeping complete results and reporting them to the newsletter during the last year or so. However there were a few slip-ups this time and we are still trying to piece together results from the HOLIDAY INN APPRECIATION NIGHT II, among others. For this reason we do not have much in the way of tournament results this issue, but we hope to get caught up by the next one.

DARTS - MY BIG TURN ON

by Jean Zeigler

(Reprinted with permission from the International Spider Magazine, September 1979)

Being a professed "tomboy" since a child, I have always liked any sport or game that consisted of throwing an object to a certain spot with accuracy to attain a certain goal. This has taken me through softball, basketball, volleyball, bowling and golf. Each is a competitive and exciting sport. Each is a challenge.

I have projected missiles at objects since I could throw, just to see if I could hit it. I had dart boards over the years, the paste-board type, usually propped up against a wall and while sitting, throw a dozen or so of assorted darts to the target. But never along the way was I introduced to the English version of darts as we play it today.

While visiting my sister in California several years ago my brother-in-law (a regional director to ADO now working on the World Cup for November) Garry "Gronk" Krause told me how darts were so big in California. Everything's always bigger there he says. We went to a dart bar down at the beach - I watched the games - but didn't really get involved.

Several months later he came to Columbus laden with a dart board and promptly set up my rec room with a carpeted back board, a light, and a carefully marked off toe line. He added several sets of darts to try.

As I began to practice, I began to want to find others who might play in my area. I wanted to know how to get involved. I wrote the Spider and they promptly sent me two names to call for information, Tom Harmon and Jim Blanton. That summer I started in a Cricket league and experienced my first competition.

I was off to the races so to speak with my love affair with darts. Darts is a high not easily explained. Darts is infectious, frustrating, exciting, sometimes disappointing, challenging and stimulating - a real turn on. The more you throw, the higher you get. Although you seem to lose more games than you ever win each time you learn something. You meet new people, make new friends and as you gain confidence, your skill improves, and so does your ability to stay calm.

Playing the guys every Thursday night, in a blind draw, really hones your game. After a three day tourney I'm still on a high for days, and the minute someone says darts, I'm out the door.

As the magic age of 40 came and went, I was content to consider myself a golf nut, playing 3-4 days a week, which was fine when you're a housewife. But now as a working woman I have less daylight hours. I find the same stimuli - or exhilaration and strategy in both games. They are very similar in that respect.

Years ago while taking flying lessons, I experienced an exhilaration of soaring through the air high above the earth - a real turn on - especially when you touched down again. Darts are that sort of turn on for me and I want to share it with all those not yet introduced to the sport.

From the time Jay & Jeanne Tomlinson took me to my first tournament I was hooked.

The comradery, the competitiveness, the challenge - they're all there in the seemingly uncomplicated game of darts.

This last match will take complete team cooperation . . .
we're counting on you . . . would ya keep score.

FAIR PLAY FOR COD?

In the last issue of Dart News an article by Glenn Remick of the Western Massachusetts Darting Association (WMDA) outlined a handicap system for the game of darts, which he designed and his dart league has used. The gist of the Fair Play system is that league dart throwers establish a handicap for themselves during regular weekly league play and be able to use this handicap for tournament competition in Fair Play tournaments or Fair Play events at regular tournaments. The purpose is to give the inexperienced or less serious darter an equalized chance at some wins against the experienced and serious darters who, it seems, win all the time.

Establishing a handicap must be done over a period of time, rather than as a one-shot deal, so incorporating a system into the regular weekly league season may be the only way of doing it. Also, it is a way of getting a large enough group of people involved to make the results valid and meaningful and chances for application abundant.

If the COD should decide to try the Fair Play system in our league, this is what it would amount to for each individual league shooter, in terms of time and effort - in addition to the regular league format, players would, each week, "take out" 50 with a maximum of 12 darts. Your score would range from 1 (Double-Bull shot) to 12 (no double shot). This score would be recorded each week. There would also be a team point won for the team whose players scored lowest in the event. This would encourage everyone to do their very best and not "hold back" in order to get a high handicap.

If you still have the last issue of Dart News (July, August) please read over Remick's article again for more detailed information on the system. When the nomination forms for the Board of Directors go out, included will be a questionnaire on this issue. We welcome all comments and opinions from all COD members as to whether or not we should be one of the first dart leagues to try a handicap system.

BETWEEN THE WIRES

CLAUDINE CONNERS and ED FOULKE decided to give up darts for one Monday night and get married instead. On Monday, October 17, Ed and Claudine tied the knot at Blacklick Park. But truthfully, you two, was it as much fun as throwing darts? ..... DART BABIES - Weighing in at 7 lbs., 4 oz., standing (or rather lying) 19½ inches long is Alan Edward Todd, new son of Mark and Carolyn Todd. Mark says Alan can't get a dart to the board yet but he's working on it .... In the other corner is Zachary David Scott, even newer son of Diane and Walter Scott, who weighed in at 9 lbs, 8 oz. (a big one). In case anyone wants to do their astrological charts Alan Edward was born 9-16-83 at 9:45 AM and Zachary David arrived 10-4-83 at 4:47 PM ..... We understand that TOM TAYLOR deserves a round of applause (or a round of something) for single-handedly returning the easels and other equipment to the storage lockers after the last party and in a truck with no ramp. Not an easy job! Let's see that this does not happen again ..... We're sure there are a lot of you who will be interested to know that our ex-V.P. and Treasurer, FRANK (MR. DART) and DEB GANLEY are alive and well in Lutz (near Tampa) Florida. The Ganleys are involved in a lot of different things down there and recently started shooting darts again. Frank says neither the darting organization nor the level of shooting can touch C.O.D. and when he tells people he came from Columbus, Ohio they say, "Wow, that's where they really play darts!" They're right about that.... CORRECTION -- TREVOR EDWARDS points earned and final standing in the summer Master's League were wrongly reported to us as being 47 points, 6th place in the division. It seems that Trevor actually earned 57 points and a tie for the 4th place spot. Sorry, Trevor..... That's all, folks!

Lacy At The Line

By John "Stonewall" Philbeck
Albany, Oregon

*Things were looking grim
for the hometown pub that night,
for Lacy was behind and three darts would tell his plight.*

*The touring challenger from Wales had yet to miss an out and with ninety-two left
the home lads hated the lout.*

If only he would miss and give their man a throw then Lacy would put an end to this foreigner's lousy show.

*But alas, they could only watch
as the chap displayed his arts for he was now toeing the line and preparing to throw his darts.*

*A solemn hush fell on the crowd
as he slowly eyed the board and every neck stretched and strained to see what his dart had scored.*

Trip twenty firmly struck as a smile spread 'cross his face followed by a sick silence which spread throughout the place.

*KILL HIM! Cried the barkeep and others took up the cry.
Kill him before he throws again
and we'll call the game a tie.*

*With a smile of Christian charity great Lacy's visage shone.
He calmed the mob with one cool look and bade the game go on.*

*The challenger seemed quite shook as he faced the board again.
He quivered as he held his darts
and made his bid for fame.*

*But now his face turned quite grim
he knew what he must do
he had to hurl a winner
that equaled thirty-two.*

*The crowd had all but given up some even turned-away
they couldn't stand to watch their champion lose that way.*

*And then the dart flew through the air and in the bristle it went a groan went up as it hit red.
But wait! The wire was bent.*

*Ten minutes he stomped around the pub
and screamed and cursed his luck
but it didn't do a bit of good the dart was firmly stuck.*

He tried for double eight but his dart was really quite wide there was nothing he could do but take the spears and hide.

*Then from fifteen throats and more there rose such lusty screams
they made the bottles rattle and shook the oaken beams.*

*They beat upon the tables and put on quite a show
for Lacy, mighty Lacy was advancing to the throw.*

*There was ease in Lacy's manner
as he stepped into his place.
There was pride in Lacy's bearing and a smile on Lacy's face.*

*And when responding to the cheers
he made a solemn sign
no stranger in the crowd could doubt

*Thirty eyes were all upon him
as he gave the board a glance.
Fifteen heads nodded approval
as he wiped his hands dry on his pants.*

*The boys were now all happy
the lassies were turning flips
for with Lacy being right on his game
he was sure to make one-thirty-six.*

*With an air of calm defiance
he threw directly at his score another wild cheer welled up as he racked a fifty-four.*

*Once again the board is shaken.
Once again the roar and scream.
As the chalk dust slowly settled
there was a trip sixteen.*

*The sneer is gone from Lacy's lips
his teeth are clenched in hate.
The crowd all confidently smiled
for they knew his challengers fate.*

*And now he strongly grips the dart.
And now he lets it go.
And now the double sixteen is shattered
by the force of Lacy's throw.*

*Oh, somewhere in this favored land
the sun is shining bright.
The band is playing somewhere and somewhere hearts are light.*

*And somewhere men are laughing
and thrones are being mounted.
But there is no joy in our pub
MIGHTY LACY HAD MISCOUNTED!*
